DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 3, 5, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sasso Jr. US Patent No. 5,603,315 in view of Freitag et al. US Patent No. 4,520,812.

Sasso discloses the applicant's invention as claimed with the exception of providing a pressure sensor, provided on the conduit downstream of the valve, for detecting the pressure in the conduit.

Freitag discloses a method and an apparatus for controlling a pressure level in a respirator that does provide a pressure sensor, provided on the conduit downstream of the valve, for detecting the pressure in the conduit (see figure 3). Therefore it would be obvious to modify Sasso's invention by providing a pressure sensor, provided on the conduit downstream of the valve, for detecting the pressure in the conduit in order to determine the proper amount of gas (oxygen) to be delivered.

It has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

The intended use statements are not given any patentable weight in this instance for example “for detecting the pressure in the conduit”.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sasso Jr. US Patent No. 5,603,315 and Kloeppel US Patent No. 5,865,174.

Sasso discloses the applicant’s invention as claimed with the exception of stating that the pressure sensor is an electric capacitor type pressure sensor having a capacitor of which the electrostatic capacitance represents the detected pressure.

Kloeppel discloses a supplemental oxygen delivery apparatus and method that does state that the pressure sensor is an electric capacitor type pressure sensor having a capacitor of which the electrostatic capacitance represents the detected pressure. Therefore it would be obvious to modify Sasso’s invention by stating that the pressure sensor is an electric capacitor type pressure sensor having a capacitor of which the electrostatic capacitance represents the detected pressure in order for the invention to function to its fullest capacity.

Also the type of pressure sensor used in the invention is simply a matter of design choice as stated in the specification by the applicant. (page 3 lines 21-23; “that the pressure sensor can be any kind of pressure sensor which provides an electric signal representing the pressure in the conduit.”).

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Application/Control Number: 09/884,138

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
